Description

If you are looking for a villa where space is not a luxury, but a reality, this property in Gambelas deserves your attention.

With 226.32 m² of gross construction area, this is a house that surprises with its dimensions, the amount of available space and, above all, the versatility it offers to a family.

Officially a 3-bedroom, the villa benefits from an exceptionally sized basement, where an additional space has been created currently used as a suite bedroom. An area that opens numerous possibilities, whether for hosting family and friends with greater privacy, creating a space for an older son, office, gym, games room or simply enjoying more space.

The garage is equally very generous, allowing parking while maintaining excellent storage capacity.

On the exterior, we find one of the great highlights of this property. A spacious and very pleasant garden, with plenty of space to enjoy the Algarve climate, a barbecue area for outdoor meals and even a hot tub, perfect for creating moments of rest and leisure at home.

Inside, the areas continue to surprise. Living and dining room with fireplace, equipped kitchen, comfortable bedrooms, several bathrooms, verandas and different storage spaces make this a house prepared for the daily life of a family.

The villa was completely remodeled in 2007 and received new maintenance work in 2025, currently in excellent state of conservation.

All of this in a privileged location in Gambelas, close to the University of Algarve, Private Hospital, commerce, services and main access roads to Faro.

There are houses that look bigger in photographs. This is precisely the opposite. It is when you enter that you truly understand the amount of space you have.

If you are looking for a villa with generous areas, enormous potential, garage, outdoor space and areas designed to enjoy the house throughout the year, come and see it.
