Description

Imagine a day that starts slowly, with breakfast on the balcony, and continues with a dip in the swimming pool, a game of tennis and family moments. In Montechoro, Albufeira, this apartment invites you to give more space to what really matters.

Set within a gated condominium, it combines generous areas with leisure spaces that allow you to make the most of each day, whether to live year-round or to have your holiday refuge in the Algarve.

Originally a one-bedroom property, the spaciousness of the apartment allowed the owner to reorganize the interior space, creating a current configuration with two bedrooms. A solution that adds versatility for receiving family and friends or having an additional room to work from home.

This apartment features a living room, separate kitchen, bathroom and balcony, as well as a private parking space in the garage. The condominium also has common outdoor parking.

Outside, the swimming pool with support facilities invites you to enjoy the summer days. The tennis court and children's playground complete a set designed for different ages and ways to enjoy leisure time.

The proximity to supermarkets and health services adds convenience to daily life, in a location that allows you to enjoy life in Albufeira and discover the beaches and hidden corners of the Algarve.

A home to create new routines, bring together those you love most and prolong that holiday feeling.
